BROWN AND WIFE

Quarrel on Grant Avenue and Wife Takes a Couple of Shots at Husband.

PROBABLE ABDUCTION CASE.

Bartender and His Girl "Wife" Under Arrest-Reckless Driving Under Ban-Worthless Checks.

Ogden, Dec. 28 .- The troubles of harles Brown and his wife Ada Heath Brown instead of growing better seem to be getting worse, and it is almost a wonder that one or the other of them has not yet met death at the other's hand. Their latest escapade occurred yesterday afternoon when they met on Grant avenue in front of the postoffice They exchanged words of no mild character and Brown, so his wife declares, told her he would take their little child from her or else kill her. Their quarrel grew louder and more heated, when suddenly Brown picked up a brick and struck his wife a heavy blow on the head, cutting an ugly As quick as a flash she drew a 38 Zaliber revolver from her pocket and fired two shots after him as he n down the street and made his away in an alley. Officer Layne anced to be near by and was soon on scene. By the time he had arthe scele. By the time he had arrived Taylor, who runs a cigar stand next door to the postoffice, had taken Mrs. Brown into his store where the wound was bathed. Officer Layne inquired into the circumstances of the affair and decided only to take the gun away from the woman and to let her go home to the baby. An effort was made to locate Brown but he had made good his escape.

About a year ago the Browns had some desperate troubles, at that time he was drinking heavily and it was claimed he tried to kill her. He was arrested, but the matter was fixed up and he was taken to Denver by relatives to get him out of the state. A short time later was fixen up short time later Mrs. Brown applied for a divorce, but before the matter came up they patched up their differences and the suit was dropped. She went to Denver with their children to try life over again with him. She says that for a short time he was all right, but storted to drink again and treated her cruelly. About a month ago she left him and came home to Ogden bringing with her the children. Since then she has been living with her father, Harry liteath, on Jefferson avenue. Brown followed her to Ogden in a short time. Since his arrival here they have had several meetings that were in no way pleasant and Mrs. Brown fearing her life took to carrying a pistol. She says she did not shoot to kill him yesterday but only a scare him away.

NEW VIADUCT ORDINANCE. Passed by City Connell by Large Ma-Jority.

Ogden. Dec. 28.—At the special session of the clay council last night another viaduct franchise was passed by a large majority. The ordinance is practically the same as agreed upon by the representatives of the council, the railroad people and the Ogden Rapid Transit company. It is known that the franchise is acceptable to both the railroad and the street car companies and the only thing standing in the way of the only thing standing in the way of its becoming a law is the veto of the mayor. The previous franchise vetoed by that official contains the provision that the city care for one-half of the roadway, and it was for this reason that the mayor refused to approve it. He gave it as his opinion that the railroad company should maintain the entire surface of the viaduct. The ordinance passed last night provides that the city shall maintain the surface and the railroad people the structural part only thing standing in the way he railroad people the structural part of the viaduct. As compared with the previous sessions of the council when this matter was brought up, last night's meeting was a tame affair. Councilmen Browning and Thomas were the only two who opposed this measure and between them they offered four amendments, all of which were voted down.

The indication is that in case the mayor vetoes the new ordinance the council will pass it over his veto at Monday night's session.

BRAKEMAN TELLS ANOTHER TALE.

Yesterday Sheriff Sebring received a call from C. J. Taylor, the freight brakeman who a few days ago knocked J. D. McCullough of Harrisville itsensible with a blow from his lantern. He called to see if a warrant had been issued for his arrest. He was not detained, as no complaint had been made againgt him.

Taylor gives an entirely different version of the affair from that told by McCullough. Taylor told the sheriff that he detected McCullough in the act of opening the air cocks on the cars while the train was standing at Harrisville. He said he was on the top of a box car at the time and called to McCullough, asking where he was going. In reply he was infermed that it was none of his business, and he claims McCullough used other insulting remarks. After going a couple of car lengths further along Taylor said he got down to the ground and McCullough started toward him. Not knowing who the fellow was and not caring to take any chances, Taylor said he struck him with his lantern, hitting him as hard as he could.

McCullough was notified that Taylor had surrendered himself, but he did not evince much desire to complain against him. evince much desire to complain

At a well attended meeting of the association last night a very satisfactory report was made by the committee, which recently visited the condensory at Richmond in Cache county. C. W. Sorenson and Joseph Seeley were the committee, and they reported that they found the fatory in splendid sanitary condition; also, the farm dair, les which supply the milk. There was an air of prosperity evident on every side as the farmers supplying the factory were geting average returns of $10 per cow per month, and those who leased their cows realized 60 cents on the dollar value of the same. The committee thought the conditions for a successful plant were as favorable in Mount Pleasant as at Richmond.

Mr. Racliffe, the manager, who has been erecting factories in various parts of the country, suggested that the committee return home and have the vicinity within a radius of five miles of Mount Pleasant divided into districts and have the same carvassed to determine the number of pounds of milk that can be procured now and that can be milked. He promises that as soon as 20,000 pounds of milk can he guaranteed, a factory will be built. The report of the committee was accepted and the officers of the union were authorized to district off the county and have the same canvassed, as suggested.
